Retailers Seeking Law Amendments

Calgary, May 8.—A large number of important resolutions were passed at the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association, in Paget Hall, when definite action was taken on many matters of importance to retailers throughout the province.

So busy were the delegates that 5 o'clock, the hour for Dr. Mahood's address on "The Pure Food Law," slipped by without notice, and when the discovery was made that the hour had passed the dealer officer had already left the hall.

T. A. Gaetz, of Red Deer, presided, in the absence of Chairman Glanville.
Resolution No. 1 recommended by the Dominion Board was passed with but little discussion. It was as follows:

"That it is the opinion of this meeting that no change should be made in the present parcel post system as recently adopted by the government, until it has been fully worked out and tested, and that we should insist, as far as possible, that it be self-sustaining."

Considerable discussion arose over the next resolution to the effect that it be an intention of this convention that the information be secured from the retail merchants throughout Alberta as to whether they are favorable to have a special tax placed on large mail order catalogue houses, and that the money so secured, through taxation, would be paid into the various municipalities from which it is taken.

Some diversity of opinion among the legality of the measure manifested itself among the delegates. Others asked regarding provincial mail order houses. In accordance with the recommendation of the resolution committee it was decided to refer it back to the Dominion Board for their consideration. It could not be taken to remedy this in the Dominion Parliament.

Resolution No. 3, which read as follows:

"That we consider that it would be the best interests of the retail merchants of this province, who pay municipal taxes and business taxes, as well as maintain other expenses in connection with the retail sale of merchandise, and that a provincial pedlar's license be charged to all pedlars, and that a portion of said license be remitted to that municipality, and that any person who is found making false statements or deceiving the public should be liable to a fine of $100, and also that the present pedlar's license be amended so that manufacturers who peddle may be included," was also subjected to much discussion.

In this connection J. Robertson, Foremost, spoke bitterly of activity in this connection of a Winnipeg firm which sold worthless goods right and left by means of peddling agents.

"If local retailers took the interest in their organization that they should, there would be no need for boards of trade," declared Secretary Bucknall, in reply to a delegate.

The resolution was finally passed as amended. A lengthy talk arose over resolution No. 4, which read as follows:

"That it is the opinion of this meeting that the system of charging for freight cartage at both ends is unfair to the retail trade, and that we recommend that this matter be referred to the Dominion Board, that they be requested to take such steps as will remedy the evil, and that all merchants insist that they buy from the cars where possible."

The motion was finally carried. That the Dominion Board secure that railways furnish customers with a freight classification book was another resolution that was carried without opposition.

A resolution "that it is the opinion of this convention that in the event of co-operative society legislation being introduced at Ottawa, that every effort should be made by the Dominion Board to see that the same is vigorously opposed," was also passed unanimously.

Resolution No. 8, which read:

"That as a great many requests have been made by members of our association to make provision for an efficient inspection of the proper weight of articles sold over retail counters, that this convention petition the Dominion Board to provide marking of all package goods with the net weight," was also passed.

"That it is the opinion of this convention that too little consideration is given to advertising in the well-assorted stocks that are carried by retail merchants, when literature is sent out by publishing officials or by any other public body in the various cities and towns, and that we advise our members to adulterated, that the manufacturer should be prosecuted instead of the retailer."

The resolution was adopted. "That this convention place themselves on record as being opposed to municipalities engaging in the retail trade," was another resolution that was speedily carried.

The general storekeepers' resolution, to the effect that steps be taken to prevent direct trading between manufacturers and wholesalers and consumers, if necessary by the adoption of a retail merchants' wholesale society, was discussed at length, and carried unanimously.

A resolution by the jewellers' section stating that there was reason to believe that the gold and silver marking act was being violated and suggested that the Dominion Board be asked to beg the government to remedy this, was explained at length by H. J. Snell, of Red Deer. Mr. Snell also scored the practice of pedlars who sold quantities of wrongly marked junk in the country. The resolution was carried.

The sanitary and heating engineers scored the practice of hardware men in doing pipe work, and suggested that the practice be discontinued. It was decided that no action be taken in this matter.

A resolution that the convention approve the action of the Temperance and Moral Reform League in seeking to place on the statutes of this province a prohibitory liquor law was discussed at length. Delegate H. J. Snell said that this matter was foreign to the business of the convention and suggested that it would be a mistake to undertake to pass the resolution. Another delegate said that retailers lost much money by liquor drinking on the part of customers. The resolution was carried.

A resolution of thanks and appreciation to the city, the board of trade, and the P. Burns Company, was passed.

The following are the delegates who have registered since Wednesday morning:

W. J. Halsey, A. R. Cruger, William Sanders, H. C. Wright, Calgary; T. J. Elliott, Crossfield; E. S. Elves and wife, Cayley; W. W. Krusper, Nanfong; H. Bossenbury, Pincher Creek; S. E. Honnell, Sedgwick; A. Clark, Ponoka.

FIRST WOMAN TO BE GRANTED B.C. DEGREE

Montreal, May 7.—Final reports posted by the faculty of law at McGill for the first time in the history of the university, contained the name of a member of the fair sex, Mrs. Langstaff, the first woman to present herself as a candidate for the legal profession in this province. She proved successful in all examinations, and ranks fourth among the 18 members of the class who will be granted the degree of B.C.L. at the university convocation, Tuesday. It will be up to the Quebec Bar Association to say whether or not she shall practice, supposing she desires to do so.

FIVE ARRESTED AS MURDER SUSPECTS

Vernon, B.C., May 7.—William King, Arthur Finn, Tom Sullivan and Larry Green, loggers, and Thomas Christian, owner of the livery barn at Lumby, were arrested Wednesday and lodged in the Vernon jail on suspicion of being implicated in the murder of James Berryman, a logger, aged 40, whose dead body was found Sunday 31 miles from Vernon on the Cherry Creek road.

The post-mortem showed Berryman died as the result of internal hemorrhage, due to violent handling. The body was covered with bruises.

CONFESSIONS TO MURDER BEFORE EXECUTION

Sydney, N.S., May 8.—Frank Haynes, who had been sentenced to hang for the murder of B. S. Atkinson on the scaffold this afternoon at 5 P.M. The long-haired convict, dressed in the uniform of a convict, was escorted by two men to the gallows. He was standing in the centre of the trap with the noose placed around his neck. Haynes asked for the doctor, who placed a morphia tablet in the prisoner's mouth. His words to the doctors were his last and Rev. J. W. McConnell said the prayers. As he finished the Lord's prayer, "Forever and ever," Hangman Holmes sprang the trap and Haynes was sent to eternity.

Haynes made a full written confession of his crime in the presence of Jailor Kerman and Capt. Fullerton. This document was turned over to the sheriff and will remain in possession of the Crown. The official states that it will not be made public at any time.

Death of Hon. W. T. Finlay

Vancouver, May 10.—Hon. W. T. Finlay, of Medicine Hat, Alberta, Minister of Agriculture in the Rutherford Government, died in Vancouver, General Hospital Saturday night. He was taken sick here six weeks ago with hemorrhage of the brain. Mr. Finlay was then on his way home to the prairies from California. He leaves two sons and three daughters, besides his widow.

Hon. William Thomas Finlay, lumber merchant and rancher, was born in Lisburn, Ireland, on July 12, 1863, and was educated at the Royal Agricultural Institute at Belfast. He came to Canada in 1878, and came west to Winnipeg from Toronto in 1882. A year later he settled in Medicine Hat, Alta., before the railway had reached that town, and established a lumber business. His business prospered, and Mr. Finlay shortly entered public life. He was mayor of Medicine Hat from 1890 to 1892, and was an ex-president of the Medicine Hat hospital.

Mr. Finlay was elected to the Northwest Legislature in 1902, and to the Alberta Legislature in 1905, and was re-elected in 1909.

Hon. W. T. Finlay.

He became minister of agriculture and provincial secretary upon his election in 1905, retiring from office in 1910.

Medicine Hat, May 10.—The death of Hon. W. T. Finlay, though not unexpected, came as a shock to the people of Medicine Hat. He has been ailing for the past couple of years, being in very poor health from time to time. Some six weeks ago he was taken with a bad cold, and his physicians advised a change of climate. He went to Vancouver five weeks ago, but was only there three days when he was taken to the hospital. For a time his condition was critical, but he later rallied, and a week ago Mrs. Finlay returned to her home here. She reported him greatly improved, and stated that she expected him to sit up the next day. However, he suffered a relapse and gradually grew worse. The members of the family have been awaiting the news of his death for the last couple of days.

Mr. Finlay's death was due to a general breakdown, and his illness really dates back to his election campaigns some five or six years ago. He made a long trip all over his then large constituency, and when he returned home he was taken seriously ill as a result of overwork and has never been real well since.

The deceased was a member of the Masonic order, and the Masons at the Coast have taken charge of the remains. They will leave there Monday night and arrive here Wednesday morning. The date of the funeral has not yet been set.

HOMESTEADER'S DEATH MAY BE FOUL PLAY

Swift Current, May 8.—A homesteader named Emil Ordeau, living fourteen miles south of here, was found dead on his farm early yesterday morning. The body was found near the cedar in the grain field, a wound in the head showing cause of the death. It was at first thought that it was an accident caused by some part of the seeder, but as no blood can be found on any part of the machine it is now thought that there has been foul play.

The mounted police brought doctors from Swift Current, who, with the local doctor at Neill, went immediately to the scene of the tragedy.

An inquest was held this morning by Coroner Cairns. The police have arrested a man by the name of Omar Letchey, who is charged with murder. He is now confined in the barracks here.

The deceased had five bullets in him and it is believed that the man under arrest did the shooting. He gave evidence and he is in a state of bewilderment showing at least temporary insanity. He says that the deceased had been paying attention to his wife and had come to a gun. He de-

MUCH MONEY FOR OIL IN ALBERTA, SAYS PREMIER BORDEN

Ottawa, May 8.—When the bill to amend the export act, which authorizes the government under conditions of national peril to prohibit the export of petroleum from crown lands was taken up in the house today, Premier Borden offered an amendment providing that the action of the government in this regard must be confirmed by parliament.

Hon. Frank Oliver said that the main objection of the bill was not met by the amendment. The bill should state distinctly the conditions which would call for government action. He said that Alberta is at the present time on the eve of a large development in oil production. Capital was being attracted to the province and it would be unwise to discourage this development.

Mr. Borden said it was difficult to meet the objection advanced by Mr. Oliver, because it was almost impossible to set forth in the bill the conditions which would justify the government in prohibiting the export of oil. He quite agreed with what had been said as to the prospective development in Alberta, but it would not be possible without the expenditure of a large amount of capital. The matter had been discussed with certain capitalists who proposed to put a lot of money into the Alberta oil fields, and they did not appear to be deterred by the provisions of the bill. He said that no government would exercise its power unless there was great need for action. That in itself would be a guarantee to the investors.

Sir Wilfrid, while agreeing that the proposed amendment minimized to a considerable degree the objections of the opposition, said that it did not remove them altogether. It was difficult to conceive why the export of petroleum should be prohibited. The development of the oil resources of the country were becoming general, and it was not advisable to discourage the investment of capital.

Investors would naturally ask why it was necessary to put such a wet blanket on the static work. He, too, expressed the belief that the bill should state specifically the condition which would result in the prohibition of export. The government was taking a large power in advance of time and perhaps for a contingency which may arise.

Mr. Borden said that he would be pleased to consider further the views which had been expressed, and suggested that the bill stand for third reading.

Hon. Chas. Maclellan referred to the report of a recent discovery of oil in Gaspe peninsula. He expressed the hope that no legislation would be passed which would prevent development. He desired to know the reasons of the government for the introduction of this legislation.

Mr. Borden said he had explained on a former occasion that the petroleum supply of Canada might be required for defensive purposes. He repeated his statement that capitalists were not frightened by the bill, saying that the minister of the interior was of the same opinion.

Mr. Fred Pardee pointed to the possibility of retaliation on the part of the United States in the event of Canada prohibiting the export of petroleum to that country. He said that the production of crude oil in Western Ontario was rapidly decreasing, and it would be a serious thing to shut Canada off from a supply of crude oil from the United States.

Mr. Borden said the government did not propose to exercise the authority given it by the bill by way of retaliation. Only in very grave circumstances would the export of oil be prohibited.

Hon. Frank Oliver, in closing the discussion, said that so far as Alberta is concerned, there is a condition of emergency at the present time. The people have great expectations and he would urge that unless the empire is going to smash, the premier would stay his hand "until we see if we strike oil."

ASKS DISMISSAL OF MARRIAGE ACTION

Toronto, May 8.—Application was made to Mr. Justice Macdonald at Osgoode Hall today by the attorney-general for an order dismissing the action, instituted by the friends of Mrs. Robert Ault, (nee Reid), for dissolution of her marriage at Cobourg last year, on the ground that it had been contracted without the consent of her parents, which was necessary, as she was under age. The attorney-general contends that Ontario courts have no jurisdiction in the matter. The point has been raised before in a similar action, but has never been decided. Now it is made the paramount issue and is further complicated by the fact that the young lady was over 18 years old and under 20 at the time the ceremony was conducted. Under the amended marriage act, it is expressly stated that one of the contracting parties must be below the age of 18 years to enable the courts to declare marriage null and void, in a case where no consent has been given by the parents or guardians of the infant.

Mr. Justice Macdonald adjourned the hearing of the application for one week.

PENAL OFFENCE TO ADVERTISE UNTRUTHS

Ottawa, May 8.—The proceedings in the Commons today were in noticeable contrast to the animated discussion which marked the consideration of the estimates of the department of militia on Thursday. From three o'clock when the house met, until 10.30 in the evening, government bills were under quiet discussion, and about a dozen were advanced a stage. The most important were the bills to give the government power to forbid the export of petroleum from crown lands and to amend the Criminal Code by making it a punishable offence to state untruths in advertising matter. The latter bill received a third reading. The former stood over in order that certain suggestions made by the opposition may be considered by the government.

Late in the evening, when Hon. Martin Burrell, minister of agriculture, took up the estimates for the live stock branch, he made a statement.

He referred to the policy of the department in connection with the live stock industry in the west.

He announced that the department proposes to encourage farmers to organize breeders' associations to secure suitable sales, the department to pay a portion of the cost.

The present system of giving bonuses will be discontinued, and the minister said that the policy of loaning breeding stock had been continued, but that home-bred animals rather than imported stock will be supplied, as it is not desirable that the department should go into the business of importing thoroughbred stock.

CRIMINAL CODE AMENDMENTS EFFECTIVE.

Edmonton, May 11.—The 1913 amendments to the criminal code have done more than anything else in Canada to lessen the class of crime that is commonly known as white slavery, but which in the parlance of the law is known as procuring.

This was the statement of the Rev. T. Albert Moore, general secretary of the temperance and moral reform department of the Methodist church, who preached at McDougall church yesterday morning, and Highlands Methodist church last night.

He is on his way to British Columbia to attend the annual conference of the Methodist church, and on his return will take in the annual Alberta Conference at Calgary. He leaves this morning for a short visit to Athabasca, and will be back in the city on Tuesday evening.

He said his visit to the city was not of special significance, being more in the nature of a friendly call than anything else. "I think the world is growing better," he declared, "and Canada is keeping pace with the general march."

With reference to the vice conditions, he said the 1913 amendments had been of great assistance to his department. What of slavery was not so rampant as formerly, and many landlords were ceasing to rent their houses for purposes of vice.

As to the temperance situation, he said the world is growing better, and he had received encouraging letters from all parts of the province. "The apparent sentiment of the people," he said, "is that the present agitation for prohibition is making splendid headway. The fact that all three of the prairie provinces are moving forward together is a great incentive. Things are looking as though there is a definite strong positive movement towards a constructive citizenship along lines to destroy the liquor traffic."

Mr. Moore said the attitude of the people who do not believe in prohibition was one of the most encouraging signs. On his way to the hotel he picked up a paper published by the hotel keeper, in which the question was discussed as though it were a real fight, and a fight to the death.

ALBERTA COUNTERFEITERS.

Edmonton, May 11.—With the arrest of a French Canadian named Pettaccio on a homestead 15 miles northwest of Lacombe, on the Edmonton-Athabasca C.N.R. line, the mounted police claim to have put a stop to one of the most daring and elaborate counterfeit money schemes ever organized in Western Canada. The importance of the arrest may be imagined from the fact that a complete outfit for engraving bills of all descriptions was seized by the police, together with moulds and dies for making silver coins. A very large amount of money, amounting up into the hundreds, and possibly thousands of dollars, has been put into circulation recently in this district, and, although no definite connection has yet been made, it is stated, between the whole of this counterfeit money and the fact that it is believed that the inquiries that are being made will undoubtedly lead to that end.

The capture reflects the great credit on the mounted police authorities. Repeated complaints had been made of the circulation of "phony" money, and it was only after the most untiring energy that they ultimately succeeded in establishing the fact that some of it had emanated from the Hyde district. Events moved rapidly after that. A systematic search of the district led to the disclosure of further remarkable facts, until finally the police secured sufficient information to arrest the French Canadian on the serious charge of unlawfully making counterfeit preventments of the currency of the realm.

It is not known at present whether there are any other men implicated, although it is believed that but for the intervention of the police, the making of counterfeit money would have taken place on a very large scale.

The prisoner was brought before Messrs. Watt and McLaughlin at Lacombe last week and remanded, and will again be before the court tomorrow.

MADAME NORDICA, FAMED SINGER, DIES IN JAWA

Batavia, Java, May 10.—Mrs. Lillian Nordica, the singer, died here tonight.

Mrs. Nordica had been ill since the steamer Tasman, on which she was passing, went ashore on Bramble Bay, in the Gulf of Papua, December 28th last. Nervous prostration, due to her experiences, was followed by pneumonia.

THE SENATE AND GOOD ROADS

The senate never had any constitutional right to impose conditions on the government's Good Roads bill that deprived parliament of the control of money proposed to be expended. Neither was there pretence that it was obeying the mandate of the people. Had the senate been heedful of the wishes of the people, it would have passed the measure as it came to it from the commons. The senate's mandate was the command of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and neither Laurier nor the senate will be allowed to escape the consequences of their folly and wrong-doing.

The country has long enough borne with patience and generosity on the part of the government that railway construction has imposed. It has faced resolutely the recklessly extravagant cost of the National Transcontinental Railway saddled upon it by Laurier. Railways, it is true, are a necessary part of the transportation system of the country. But they are only one link. To complete the transportation system there must needs be built good rural highways throughout the country, that the farmers may be enabled to reach the railway with economy and despatch.

Good rural roads are as much a work "for the general advantage" as the bonds are the bonds of steel that link the province into a commercial whole. They are an essential part of the country's transportation schemes. The farmers of the country, too, are beginning to awaken to a recognition of the fact that Manitoba is leading the provinces in the work of good roads construction. But the good roads movement is national in its scope. The municipalities have a right to aid from the provinces, and in like manner the Dominion has a responsibility and an obligation in the matter. For the blocking of the Borden government's forward policy of aiding the good roads movement the country will hold Laurier and his subservient senate responsible.

POUNDER'S PERSONAGES.

Cotton Mather was born in Boston in 1663 and was graduated from Harvard College at the age of 15. At the age of 18 he was assistant pastor of his father's Congregational Church, and at 25 was minister of the large congregation in New England, and was giving advice to governors, lawyers and such odd kings as applied for it.

It will thus be seen that Cotton Mather was a very learned man. In fact, he knew more Greek and Latin than most college professors and was one of the best writers in America. His life is used by posterity not to illustrate the great value of learning, but not to prove how distantly related learning and wisdom may be, for this same Cotton Mather, who was so stuffed with education, was his brow protruded like the breast of a pouter pigeon, was the man who started the witchcraft persecution in Salem in 1692.

Mather was at that time 29 years old, and could out-quote anyone in the colonies in literature and religion. But he believed in witches, and started out to hang those which afflicted Salem. If he had not been so learned it would not have been so serious. As it was, his college diploma proved fatal to a number of innocent people. A little learning is a dangerous thing, but not half so serious as a large wall of lead, by digested information.

Later on Cotton Mather sobered up, and he regretted his crusade against witches very much indeed. However, the alleged witches remained dead.

Mather came near to being elected president of Harvard College in 1707, but the Liberals of that time was too strong and he was defeated. Later on he persuaded Elihu Yale, of New Haven, to start a college. This was the beginning of Yale College, and every time Yale has beaten Harvard in football since then, Cotton Mather has chuckled softly in his tomb.

Mather was very hard on the witches, but later in life he made up for it by introducing vaccination into this country. Enemies of the idea threatened his life, but with invincible courage he tried it on his son and worked for its adoption. Thus he probably saved more lives from smallpox than he took during his earlier rainstorm, and should, after all, be regarded as a public benefactor.

If you want the best Flour at the lowest price, go to Nicholson & Switzer. (M4 4)

Flour trial is essential but— it is not your work!

Flour varies from time to time in baking quality. This is because wheat continually varies according to soil conditions, etc.

Therefore, if baking results are to be constantly high, baking tests are essential. It is unreasonable to expect you to make these tests at your expense.

So from each shipment of wheat delivered at our mills we take a ten pound sample. This is ground into flour. Bread is baked from the flour. If this bread is high in quality and large in quantity, we use the shipment. Otherwise we sell it.

By simply asking for flour bearing this name you can always be sure of more bread and better bread.

We are sorry to report the death of S. D. Clifford, at the home of his sister in Washington. Mr. Clifford had been sick while here, and went to the Coast for the benefit of his health. The relatives have the deepest sympathy of their friends.

Seeding is now in full swing and will be finished shortly. Now we have had the rain, the crops will soon be showing up, and the Medicine Valley, the prairie of Alberta, will soon reap the harvest.

Elkhorn and Morningside News

We are having nice spring weather now. The big snowstorm two weeks ago looked as if winter had set in; we had more snow this way than last winter.

The heavy rain we had on Saturday, May 2nd, put out the prairie fires. I guess those who were out in them were baptized before they got home. The rain and snow were needed for the land, and will help the grass and grain along.

Orin Kouks took a trip out to see Mrs. J. Baker and the country out there. He did not think the soil was as good for farming as this way, but well settled up and some nice buildings and even better farms than around here. He met Mr. Rimbey, the founder of Rimbey, who told him when he came in here 14 years ago he did not have much of this world's goods or money either. To many housewives, the finishing of their floors is quite a problem. Attractive and satisfactory floors are largely a matter of knowing the best finish to use.

For instance an old worn or soiled floor should be painted with S-W Inside Floor Paint, and two coats will give you a fine finish, easy to clean and pleasing in appearance.

Or if you prefer a finish in imitation of the popular hardwoods, an old worn floor can be made to look very well by applying one coat of S-W Floorlac in Oak, Mahogany, Walnut or any other color desired, and one or two finishing coats of S-W Floorlac Clear or S-W Mar-not Varnish.

Hard Pine or hardwood floors are best finished with a clear varnish such as S-W Mar-not, a durable waterproof floor varnish made to be walked on. On a new floor three coats will give you a splendid finish or on an old floor that you are refinishing one coat will often be satisfactory. A waxed finish can be obtained by using S-W Floor Wax.

To keep any finished floor, either painted, stained, varnished or waxed, in good condition, wipe it over once a week or fortnight with S-W Floorlac, a special preparation for keeping floors clean and bright. The regular use of Floorlac will keep your floors bright and new.

As we handle a complete line of Sherwin-Williams Floor Finishes, there is no floor problem that we cannot help you solve. Come and see us about your floors.

HAWKES HAS SCHEME FOR PURE ELECTIONS IN CANADA

Ottawa, March 14.—A number of radical suggestions for reforms in the election laws of the country were made at the initial business meeting on Wednesday of the special committee of the house, which has in view amendments to the law. The more novel suggestion was made by Mr. Arthur Hawkes, who complained of the unworkability of the present system. He urged that elections in each county be directed by a board consisting of a judge, a representative of each candidate, a clergyman and a woman.

Mr. Arthur Hawkes said the discussion on the question of electoral purity, he thought, was begun from the wrong end. It was a lawyers' discussion more than anything else, and he considered that the main question under consideration should have rather than the making of new laws. "There is in the country a greater distrust of parliament," Mr. Hawkes added, "than perhaps of any other institution in the country, and this distrust rises out of electoral corruption. Whatever the government of the day, it seems to have an interest in keeping a blind eye to the election law."

Mr. Hawkes cited the case of a writ not being issued for a vacant constituency until after long delays as an instance where distrust of parliament was aroused. "On the floor of parliament," he said, "it had been declared the election law was virtually inoperative and this inoperative law did much to discredit Canada abroad."

Mr. Hawkes suggested more effective control of elections. "For instance, suitable buildings might be placed at the disposal of candidates during election time. During session," Mr. Hawkes went on, "a member of parliament can send out tons and tons of literature through the mails free, simply by putting on it his frank. I would suggest that both candidates should have the right, during the campaign, to send out literature from some centre."

Mr. A. K. Maclellan—"Members of parliament only have the franking privilege during the session. They do not have it during the election period."

Mr. Hawkes—"That is so. But why limit the interest of the state in the time parliament is in session?"

In every constituency, Mr. Hawkes suggested a board should be appointed of five members. The chairman should be a judge and on the board should be a representative of each party. As to the remaining two members, the churches for one of the members. They talked a lot about citizenship.

Mr. Carvell—"Keep away from that. The Lord protect us from that." (Laughter.)

Ministers of the gospel, Mr. Hawkes suggested, should have the right to appoint one of their number on the board. "I would make them discharge the duties of citizenship," Mr. Hawkes said. "It is time we revised some of the old notions."

The remaining member might be a woman. "That would be easier than picking up a man with the gospel," Mr. Maclellan remarked.

In reply to a question from Mr. Carvell, Mr. Hawkes said that the lady member of the committee might be the nominee of the education authorities. Mr. Hawkes elaborated his views at length.

There never was a time when people appreciated the real merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy more than now. This is shown by the increase in sales and voluntary testimonials from persons who have been cured by it.

AMERICANS ADMIT "FREE FOOD" IS A FAKE

Confounded by the exposure which the influential press of the United States is making of Laurier's "free food" fallacy, the organs of Laurierism in Canada are falling back upon the hackneyed and discreditable position of abusing the opposing counsel. They are laboring hard to convince their unfortunate readers that the American papers which are attacking Sir Wilfrid's policy are all of the Republican Protectionist stripe, the enemies of freedom in any and every land.

With the deliberate misrepresentation for which the Liberal press of Canada has an unenviable reputation.

The foremost United States newspapers which have exposed the falsity of Sir Wilfrid's position in advocating "free food" are the New York Sun, the New York Tribune, the New York Evening Post, the New York World, and the New York American.

Let us see about their politics. The "Sun" was practically made by that lion of journalism, Charles A. Dana. It has given the Republicans intelligent and independent support, but today it is down in the "Directory of American Newspapers" as "Independent in politics."

The "Tribune" has ever, and is now, giving an independent support to the Republican party.

The "Evening Post" is one of the great Democratic newspapers of America. It has been the most powerful, and at the same time most brilliant advocate of a low tariff for years past in the United States. It was Cleveland's strongest free trade supporter, and consistent advocate of the Simons-Underwood tariff.

The New York World is now, and has always been, a thoroughgoing Democratic and low tariff newspaper, being founded by that great Radical Joseph Pulitzer. It was one of Wilson's strongest supporters in his advocacy of "free food," but now candidly and honestly admits that it was mistaken, and tells Sir Wilfrid Laurier that he, too, is mistaken. The New York American is a Democratic journal of the Hearst school, and has never given its support to the Republicans. It strongly supported "free food" in the United States, and has lived to admit its mistake, and warns Canadians against a similar blunder.

I will be seen that out of the five big American newspapers to subject Sir Wilfrid's policy to the searchlight of fact, one is Republican, one is Independent, and three are straight Democratic and low tariff.

So much for the veracity and honesty of the Liberal press.

THE TOWN FARMER.

Upon a farming life I dot,
I'd like right now
To have a graceful highland goat,
A shaggy cow

I'd like to own a holstein horse
From some good sire,
And all the other things, of course,
That farms require.

Of southdown fowls I'd surely keep
A famous flock
Upon my farm I'd have a heap
Of blooded stock

SOMETHING ROTTEN HERE

The scandal of Edmonton club and, in fact, the whole question of the Alberta licensing system, is becoming more glaring as the weeks pass. Edmonton Liberals admit the rottenness of conditions, but have failed to saddle upon the Conservative opposition an equal share of the blame. A. F. Ewing, M.P.P., counters by explaining that under the new regulations the attorney-general's department has the right to grant a license but is only supposed to do so when it is certain that the club is to be conducted decently and not to be a danger to the community in which it is situated. If a mistake has been made in granting the license in the first place, full power is given to the department to revoke it.

This puts responsibility where it properly belongs, and to show that responsibility is being, to say the least, but lightly regarded, the Edmonton Bulletin, Liberal to the backbone, tells of a case in which the license of at least one club was being hawked about the city by a gentleman named Cohen, for sale at $3,000 cash.

According to the smooth Mr. Cohen, he is prepared to give to the purchaser absolute and definite assurance that the transfer of the license will be duly made by the department. He says he obtained the charter and license on the understanding that it was to be taken over by a man named Christensen, a cafe proprietor, and a club home started for the Scandinavians. Now there seems to have been a hitch in negotiations and Cohen is in the market with his charter and license, coupled with the positive and absolute guarantee, ready to do business with the highest bidder and no questions asked.

Evidently there is something very rotten in the state of Denmark as concerns the Alberta licensing system—so rotten that even if the Liberal government are holding their metaphorical noses.

Now is the time to get rid of your rheumatism. You can do it by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and massaging the parts freely at each application. For sale by City Pharmacy. (5)

ANOTHER POLITICAL-GRAFT INQUIRY IN THE EAST.

In 1908 an investigation was made into irregularities that were alleged to have occurred in connection with the department of marine and fisheries at Quebec, which was thought at the time to have covered all that required to be discovered. But it has been transpired that from 1906 there have been many happenings in the same spot that require inquiry.

This new surprise has been sprung on the federal government by an official in the department, and already four of the local officials—the local agent, an accountant, a clerk and a time-keeper—have been summarily dismissed.

For several years the padding of the payrolls has been habitual, wages being credited to some who never were connected with the department, and to others who never had any existence either in the department or in the flesh.

As soon as the present government received the statement of the informant measures were adopted to verify it, and this evidently did not take long. It appears from the statement made by the minister of marine and fisheries, in the house of commons, that the persons getting the money did not personally profit by it, but that it was used to cover accounts incurred by the local department, but which the department at Ottawa refused to sanction. As a matter of fact, they drew the money and with it paid those unauthorized accounts. This is a gross act of complicity in forgery if not conspiracy. It has further transpired that property has been sold and no return of the transactions sent in to Ottawa, this money having been expended in connection with a celebration at Quebec.

The discovery is an unwelcome exposure of certain Canadian departmental methods, but it is well that they have been brought to light so that the guilty parties may be punished and the government spared from having credit for employing such officials knowingly.

BASEBALL

A good crowd was out to see the first home game of the season on Friday last, when Red Deer, accompanied by a number of fans from the south, played their return game with Lacombe. As Red Deer defeated Lacombe on May 2nd, they no doubt were sure that they could repeat the dose again, but they were disappointed, being defeated 7 to 2 in a seven-inning game.

The visitors started off with 2 runs in the first innings, but from that until the finish they did not score.

Lacombe scored 3 in the last, 3 in the second, and 1 in the fifth. The locals were in much better form than when they visited Red Deer, and proved to the audience that this town possesses a team that will be hard to beat.

The Red Deer boys put up a strong game and some snappy ball was played. C. Danner, who pitched for the locals, settled down after the first innings and kept the visitors busy trying to land his wickets.

Owing to the visitors wishing to catch the 5:40 train, the game was called in the seventh. There will be a series of games played between these teams during the summer, and some exciting times are looked for. Red Deer being determined to win the majority of games, while the locals are confident of their ability to defeat all comers, barring none.

The line-up was as follows:

Red Deer-Walton 3b., Muldrew c.f., Reynolds, s.s., Hanley 2b., Lawson 1b., Smith p., Malcolm l.f., Turnbull r.f., Braton c. Lacombe-Merriall 2b., Fleming 1b., Hill c.f., Metzgar l.f., Hall r.f., Garland 3b., C. Danner p., G. Danner s.s., Thompson c.

One hundred and twenty-three British health officers have united in protest against the inefficiency of campaigns against the house fly by exterminating the pests one by one. They point out what must all along have been apparent, that it is of little avail to kill one or even a dozen flies, and still leave so many more to continue their multiplying processes by breeding in the filthy conditions which favor their propagation. The modern fly-killing business is largely a matter of newspaper creation. As a subject for children's competitions it has wonderful possibilities. Kiddies entered such contests with zeal in the hope of obtaining prizes.

In so far as some flies were killed, good was done, too. But, as these British health authorities rightly point out, the only really effective method of ridding a community of flies is to prevent the fly by the adoption of cleanliness about the house and house surroundings.

A few flies can breed faster under favorable conditions than many regiments of children could destroy by the individual killing process. The only effective remedy is to make impossible the breeding of flies. Remove the breeding place, and the fly will not be born to pester and annoy, and to carry disease and death in its wake. Judicious prevention will be much more effective than the willing work of hands and humble feet.

The time to attack the fly is now, before the warm weather conveys him from his winter hiding place, not the heat of July and August after he has multiplied himself many thousands of times.

Your flies require the very best attention, and M. Mecklenburg, the eminent Eucisight Specialist, of 315 Jasper Ave. East, Edmonton, is the very one to consult. He will again be at the Adelphi Hotel, Lacombe, on Saturday, May 30th.
